The Basics of working with me

Hello -

Thanks for your interest in working together.

Here's what you can expect -

I can help you feel confident when you step into a builder's office to review a hundred-line itemized budget. I will prepare you with a list of questions to ask the builder – better yet, I will ask them for you. I will request clarification on items that don't make sense.

When our initial builder meetings are complete, I will review and analyze the entirety of each builder's proposal ensuring all inconsistencies are taken into consideration. All uncertainties will be eliminated, and you will have a clear picture on who should gain your business.

You will go into your sign the contract meeting empowered and ready to move forward with the next step – breaking ground and building your dream home.

My services don't stop there - you will have me by your side during jobsite visits ensuring you are getting what you are paying for. And when the invoices start rolling in - I'll be the one making sure there are no discrepancies between the field and the books.

This guide provides you with everything you need to know about my services, including my rates, processes, next steps, and more. Once again, thank you for your consideration. I look forward to the prospect of working with you. Please reach out if you have any questions.

- Patricia Sims
of Georgia Grace Collaboration

Hi there! I'm Patricia.

Allow me to introduce myself

Consider me your construction friend, everyone should have a go-to person for individual circumstances. I'm the one you come to for advice during the build of your home.

My experience is rooted in formal education. I graduated from the University of Houston with a Bachelor of Science in Construction Management.

In addition to academics, I have over ten years of experience, working with various world renowned general contractors, and most recently building multi-million dollar homes across Houston.

My happy place? Helping homeowners like you make the right decisions during the construction of your home based on my industry experience.

Are we a good fit?

Because a construction liaison is a significant investment, it's important that we're on the same page from the start. My services are best suited for homeowners who:

- ✓ Understand that having a high-quality built home means hiring the right team. It's a process requiring time, research, and professional expertise.
- ✓ Realize determining the scope of work will create a smoother and rewarding homebuilding experience.
- ✓ Appreciate establishing expectations prior to contract signing avoiding confrontation in the middle of construction.
- ✓ Value learning the pros and cons to each option before making a final decision.
